“ I had the pleasure of working with Irwin all the years he was at Excelsior. He would always help with any tech issue we had, calmly and with a smile on his face. He was patient, and he even gladly helped me even though I am a Red Sox's fan. He talked about his family and you could tell how much love he had in his heart for them. I send condolences to his entire family. Several also worked for Excelsior and are equally kind and caring. I hope all of the beautiful memories of Irwin will ease your hurt over time. My best to you all, Anita Burns

“ I am a Senor Academic Advisor at Excelsior who works on an accommodation for a disability 100% from home. Irwin has helped me for many years with my home computer setup, along with the rest of the IT team. But I want to convey how patient and kind Irwin always was with me, in helping me with my home computer setup, and he helped me for quite a few years. His passing is a loss to us at Excelsior, and he was a wonderful contributor to making my job better. I wish his family condolences and many wishes for peace and recovery at this difficult time. Thank you.

“ Irwin was one of those special people you could always have a conversation with. I worked with him since he came to Excelsior and loved watching his career progress. Irwin will be missed by so many at Excelsior as he left his mark in IT. University-wide meetings he could be found in the corner, pulling the technical strings to make sure everything ran smoothly. I still expect to see him at the soundboard.

Angel, Jaiden, Alex, Stephen and family, you are in my thoughts and prayers. I will remember Irwin for his love of Disney, his pride in his family, and his dislike of cheese on his sandwiches.

“ They say you spend more time at work than you do at home with your family - affectionately known as my “2nd child” or “work child” – you made sure I had a piece of family at work, another boy to add to my collection – whether I wanted one or not, thank you so much LOL. Countless reminders, exceptions, and emails to your wife, I never had a bigger pain in my side than you and you knew it. But you returned the favor each and every time. It was this mutual respect that was the basis of what turned into a beautiful friendship over a decade ago.

My heart has shattered multiple times a day because it is not fair, and no explanation of why would ever be good enough as to why you were taken so soon. It is not fair that so many people will miss out on your compassion, loyalty, kindness, wit and so many other deeming qualities that you embodied. However, there are no doubts that Angel will continue to focus on raising Jaiden, as you both had planned, with these qualities and then some, and your legacy will live on through him. Keep your arms wrapped around them.

The world needs more people like you Irwin. I can only hope that your passing sparks a sense of kindness in all. You are missed and will continue to be forever.

“ I can't count the number of days Irwin and I shot the breeze on my way in and out of the office over the years. He always had a smile, always had a positive attitude and was always ready to help in any way he could. Irwin, you will be missed. You made the world a better place.

“ I concur with Mark and Kimberly - Irwin was kind, friendly, competent and most of all a pleasure to work with. We worked through some pretty tense periods and Irwin kept his focus on solving the problem - with a smile. He was an absolute pleasure to work with and talked about his family offer. He was a gem. Sandra - you raised a wonderful person.

“ Irwin was a rare exemplar of kindness, decency, thoughtfulness, compassion, and honesty. I could pass Irwin in the hallway, wave, and say hey - and even an exchange as mundane as that with him would make my day brighter. Until Irwin, I had never actually met a person whose 'smile lit up a room'. His smile had magic in it. His presence brought with it a sense of calm and humor. He made this world better for having walked through it. Thank you for sharing him with us.

“ When you think of certain places & things, certain people & faces come to mind. When I think of Excelsior, Irwin is one of the many faces that comes to mind, that brings back fond memories and a smile. It truly was a privilege to work with Irwin during my time at Excelsior. I was always met with a warm “Hello”, kind words, patience, and a friendly laugh. Irwin was the “tech guy” who often looked out for me and I was grateful to have had a wonderful work friendship with him. Going from working with Irwin, to working with Stephen extended that work friendship and I was grateful to have had the privilege to experience working closely with both Rodriguez brothers. I extend my sincere condolences to the Rodriguez family and sincere prayers of comfort for you all during this difficult time of loss. Thank you for sharing Irwin with so many over the years. He is truly missed!

“ I cannot tell you how many times that I have reached out to Irwin with a problem at work and he never hesitated to help me. He and his brother Stephen are such wonderful people with kind hearts, and have such a giving nature. Irwin was a dedicated employee, a compassionate friend and a loving family man. He often spoke of his family and was so proud of his wife Angel and son Jaiden. Irwin, we miss you at work. I hope you are practicing golf where you are so you can attempt to beat Stephen when he sees you again!
