“ Jean was the sweetest person ever. Growing up I spent some part of every day over at Jeans house. I have too many memories to count, but one that shows just how kind Jean was happened when I was a little girl. I had a doll that I took everywhere - I was never without her. One night I went shopping with my mom then went home for dinner. After eating I was looking everywhere for my doll but I couldn't find her. I was devastated, crying I refused to go to sleep. Then Jean knocked on the door and she was holding my doll. She found her on top of the gum ball machines at Nichols. She knew me so well that with out a doubt she knew that was my doll and that I would never sleep without her. So she picked her up and brought her home to me. I still have that doll today because Jean rescued her for me. She will never be forgotten. Love you Bean!

“ When I graduated from high school in 2003, Uncle Jake gave me a box of record albums. I've listened to them endlessly, made memories with them, made friends with them, etc.

In the box was this album, and I remember first seeing it as a much younger 18 year old and thinking: "Wow, she had good taste!"

And she did. I always knew Aunt Jeanie to love a good joke, always be at the family parties and my birthday parties, and always have a good story to share or enjoy listening to. I guess I just wish we had more time to talk music...

But I'll never again overlook just how cool you are, Aunt Jeanie. And I'll give this beauty a spin tonight for you <3
