

John F. Hallenbeck

February 18, 1970 - May 21, 2025

John Frederick Hallenbeck, age 55, of McDonough, GA and formerly of the Broadalbin area, died Wednesday, May 21, 2025, at his home.

John was a longtime resident of Broadalbin, NY, where he lived with his parents, Fred and Toni Hallenbeck, and his sister, Holli Hallenbeck. He was a 1988 graduate of Broadalbin-Perth High School. After high school, John held various positions until joining the United States Navy in 1996. He was a veteran of Desert Storm. During his time in the Navy, John learned aircraft mechanics. After returning from the Navy, John worked for General Electric building train engines. Aircraft mechanics was what he enjoyed and was good at, and he returned to that field. John worked hard and diligently at this. He was a mechanic that truly followed the rules and guidelines to ensure any aircraft that he was working on was done right. He tried to pass this on to his co-workers and younger mechanics.

John followed in his father's footsteps, by joining the Broadalbin Kenneyto Fire Company, where he proudly served his community for ten years. John was elected to the position of vice president during his final years with the fire department.

John was predeceased by his father, Frederick "Fred" Hallenbeck, Jr. Survivors include his wife, Coleen Chambers Hallenbeck; two sons, Collin Ball and David Henderson; his mother, Antoinette "Toni" Hallenbeck; a sister, Holli Hallenbeck; two foster sisters, Carrie Allen and Ricki Robbins; and several aunts, uncles, and cousins.
