

Richard G. Flanger

December 10, 1942 - April 11, 2025

Richard G. Flanger, 82, of Judson Parkway, Gloversville, passed away on Friday evening, April 11, 2025, at Mountain Valley Hospice.

He was born in Brooklyn on December 10, 1942, a son of Daniel and Florence Aronson Flanger and was educated there. He was a graduate of SUNY at Oneonta and was awarded a BA. Richard lived in Gloversville since the 1970's.

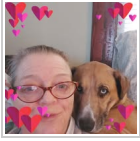

Mr. Flanger was the Associate Director at Lexington Center in Johnstown for 25 years. After he retired, he worked at the YMCA in Gloversville for 13 years as a director of residencies and retired again 10 years ago.

Richard enjoyed spending time with family and friends. He always loved a good cigar and a real martini with gin.

Survivors include his wife, Judith Handy Ferrara Flanger, whom he married on July 4, 2009; two children, Tara (Jon) Caraco of Mayfield and Aaron (Beth) Flanger of Latham; five grandchildren, Brandon (Allie) Yager, Riley Yager, Haley Woodruff, and Ashley and Mitchell Flanger; seven great-grandchildren, Sophia, Tucker, Ella, Wyatt, Hudson, Waylon, and Tenley; and Judy's sons, John and Philip Ferrara.

Cremation was performed at Park View Crematorium, Schenectady. A celebration of Richard's life will be held at a later date. Arrangements are by the Robert M. Halgas Funeral Home, Inc., Johnstown.
