“ Memories...so many I wouldn't even know were to start..I do know that she lifted me up whenever I was down with her loving heart , her kindness and most of all her laughter..She never Had a mean word to say about anyone. The time we spent together I never heard her ask for anything for herself. She loved her family and was so proud of each and everyone of them .She did a great job too, they are close and would do anything for each other. I will miss her more than anyone could ever know. She was my love , my sister , and my best friend.. I will always love you and miss you so very much . Rest in Peace. My Sandy.

“ *To my beautiful sister Sandy,
You were always the smart one in school, you never even took a book home and always did my homework for me when I was a senior and you were a junior! And let's not forget how Jane and I always got dish detail cause you were allergic to dish soap, I see you got over that when you got married. I will forever remember your laugh and the jokes. I will love and miss you forever sis!!
Love your sister Joan

“ She was always giving to everyone. From the pickled eggs and chocolate pie she made my mom every easter. The warm booties which she knitted us when we were little. The time when my dad got sick and she picked up my 3 year old and spoiled her for the afternoon. Best memory was hearing her laugh at her house all the way from my house. One of a kind.❤️❤️❤️

“ My fondest memory of my beautiful, loving sister is when I lived with her and we would go make pallets when the kids went to bed then we would go up to Nan's house and she would make us the best garlic toast. Then we would walk “the path” home from Nan's always thinking we heard something or someone following us and me saying to her whatever you do, don't laugh cuz we won't hear over your laugh and what do you think she did, yep laughed! She made me feel so special and loved that I never wanted to leave there. I will love & miss you forever my very very special sister💕💕

“ With the holidays around the corner, Christmas memories come to mind. No matter what it was, my mom always knew exactly what we wanted for Christmas. We only really got one present from Santa and it was always perfect! When I got older I always wondered how she knew??. We had very little but we had enough and we had each other. Our Christmas was always wonderful and I will always be thankful for those memories
