We were very close in high school and we live across the street from each other. In fact her mother and my mother were too close. So many memories.

We spent a lot of time on a Friday nights at the old archery range at the base of the sand dunes.

People would would always say they hated high school and I would say "I loved high because Shelly and I went to Morro Bay High School together" We were always laughing.

Rest in Peace.
